Test results of our products can be met with all the international standards in most of the requested categories.

We always ensure that the customers receive the products in accordance with quality standards as per the agreement with them, and further our quality assurances within the organization, as we spread the culture of importance of quality, and expand the scope of laboratory services domestically and internationally.

Products

GASOIL D2

Designed for its particular use for Heavy Goods Vehicles (HGV's) and construction machinery, as well as some private transportation vehicles, Gas Oil offers a clean and economic solution to the petrochemical industry.

Gas Oil has the ability to reduce the engine's need for oil, thus maximizing the sustainability of the engine whilst working under pressurizing weather conditions.

Products

GASOIL D2

Gas Oil (D2), is a fuel oil that is the second distillate derived from crude oil. D2 diesel products contain different levels of sulfur and require no reformers or additives to produce.

D2 comes with different specifications. Based on client's requirements we can supply High Sulfur & Low Sulfur.
